Investment objective

The Fund focuses primarily on long-term capital growth over the full investment cycle through a relatively high exposure to international growth assets. The portfolio will retain a good level of diversification, however, and will invest into a wide range of asset classes including cash, bonds, equities, commodities and property. The Fund is ideally suited to investors with an investment horizon of 5 years and longer and an intermediate (between moderate and high) risk tolerance.

[^] The composite benchmark for performance comparison provided in this document comprised: 1) Between 01.12.21 and 31.01.2024: 60% MSCI AC World, 15% ICE BofA Global Government, 5% ICE BofA Global Inflation-Linked Government, 5% ICE BofA Global Corporate, 5% S&P Global Property, 10% Cash; 2) Between 01.10.21 and 30.11.21: 60% MSCI AC World, 20% ICE BofA Global Government, 5% ICE BofA Global Corporate, 5% S&P Global Property, 10% Cash; 3) Prior to 01.10.21: 60% MSCI AC World, 30% ICE BofA Global Government, 10% Cash. With effect from 01.07.18 the 30% allocation in the FTSE WGBI index was replaced with the ICE BofA Global Government index. Both indices have had similar returns since the inception of the Fund and this change, which has not been applied retrospectively, has no significant impact on the performance comparison. The Fund performance is calculated on a total return basis, net of all fees and in US dollar terms. NAV to NAV figures have been used for the performance calculations. The performance is calculated for the Fund. The individual investor performance may differ, as a result of various factors, including the actual investment date. Investment performance calculations are available for verification upon request. Annualised returns are period returns re-scaled to a period of 1 year. This allows investors to compare returns of different assets that they have owned for different lengths of time. Actual annual figures are available to investors upon request. Since inception figures are since the inception of the Fund.

* Please refer to the fund supplement and scheme particulars for a detailed description of fees and fund facts.

 The Total Expense Ratios (TERs) are the percentages of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The TER to 30.06.24 is based on data for the period from 30.06.23 to 30.06.24 and the financial year-end TER is based on data for the financial year-end to 30.06.24. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

 Asset allocation figures look through to the holdings of underlying collective investment schemes.

Market commentary

By the end of August, the big correction in markets in late July/early August seemed a distant memory, with markets quickly regaining most of the ground lost in that sudden and very brief risk-off event. Concerns centred mostly around fears of slower growth in the US and unwinding of the yen carry trade, but these were proved to be misplaced as subsequent data releases showed ongoing resilience in the US economy. Most asset classes and markets ended August in positive territory, with gold the standout performer.

At its August monetary policy meeting, the Fed kept rates on hold but clearly signalled a cut in September. This dovish shift was emphasised at Chair Powell's annual Jackson Hole speech, with the only questions on investors' minds now whether the first cut in September will be 25bps or 50bps. With inflation falling steadily, most developed market central banks have shifted to policy easing with concerns surrounding a softer labour market and weakness in the manufacturing sector, the latter most notably felt in China, which remain mired in structural headwinds and Germany, the manufacturing hub of the EU. These factors have resulted in significant declines in bond yields, driven in part by a fall in inflation expectations but mostly by falling real yields.

Developed markets, measured by the MSCI World index, returned +2.6% in August, with the US returning +2.4%. Emerging markets rose +1.6% in local terms. Bond markets returned +2.3% over the month, as measured by the ICE BofA Global Broad Market index, with US Treasuries returning +1.3%.

The rate cutting cycle is underway in Europe and will begin in the US in September, where rates are likely to be at least 150 bps lower by mid-2025. Bond yields have reflected some of these expectations, but real yields still offer value, and this is not an environment which is bad for risk assets. We recognise the risk of policy error and the possibility of the economy weakening further, but the Fed has considerable room to ease and given its dual mandate which prioritises both inflation control and maximum employment, it will no doubt use its full armoury if necessary. We therefore remain broadly constructive about markets, and, as in early August, we intend to use periods of weakness to add to risk assets in our portfolios.

Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives.

The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Cell is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
